City zoning hearing set

The Mayor and Commission Council of Bay St. Louis Tuesday set 7:30 p.m. June 21 at Bay High auditorium for a public hearing on the zoning ordinance proposed to it last week by the City Planning Commission.

The proposed ordinance differs from the tentative one presented at the public hearing March 29 in the following respects: extends the beach front business district across the railroad tracks to include Merchants Bank and Insurance Agency Bldg. and classifies the water side of the area the same as the rest. Dollar Store extends the M-I classification in the L and N depot area; changes Graham Heights sub-division from R-2 dual family, to R-3, multi-family, with uses permitted in R-3 modified to include hotels and motels upon approval of the planning commission.

At its meeting Monday council considered the suggestion of Commissioner J. Cyril Glover to install deep turbine pumps at the Easterbrook and St. Charles Street wells in place of the present centrifugal pumps. Suter Well Works had advised Glover that such a change, estimated to cost $5,200, would increase the output at Easterbrook from 100 to 300 gallons per minute.

Seventeen more candidates qualified for the Aug. 6 Democratic primary through Tuesday bringing the field to date to 82 and indications are the field will surpass that of four years ago by the deadline at 5 p.m. Friday. At that time there were 92 in the various races.

Making formal announcements this week are Oswald L. Villere, Waveland lounge operator and seafood man, running for coroner and ranger; Lester L. Seal, engineer, for Beat 4 supervisor; Raymond L. Talbot, Old Spanish Trail groceryman, for Beat 5 justice of the peace, No. 2; and Donald Marquar, deputy on the sheriff's staff, Beat 5 constable.

The race for the state senate seat shared by Hancock and Pearl River Counties was swelled to eight when five more candidates qualified during the week with Circuit Clerk Lamar Otis and Democratic Committee Secretary Leo Seal, Jr. New ones are Roddie P. Powell, R. J. Williams, Sam P. Cooper, J. W. (Bill) Owen and John V. Ladner.

In the supervisory field Isaac M. Frierson, incumbent, and Dolph Keller, former school board trustee, are seeking the Beat 2 seat. They are the first to qualify. James C. Ladner boosted the field in Beat 3 to six, while Jack Lott, former Beat 4 supervisor, and Seal qualified for Beat 4.

Talbot and Gerard J. Freeman joined the field for Beat 5 JP No. 2 while in the constable races William A. Thigpen joined these running in Beat 2, Weldon J. Ladner and Gaston Ladner came out in Beat 3; John R. Garriga entered in Beat 4, and John J. Kochler field in Beat 5.

Waveland votes 1st police car

A white Ford will be Waveland's first police car. Fred Hoagland Ford Sales was sole bidder at $2,209.30 on the automobile and Kirliland Rheams, the agency's sales manager who was present, was told by Waveland's Mayor and Board of Aldermen to order a white one.

At Tuesday night's meeting the board also accepted W. A. McDonald and Sons' bid of $1,644.37 for a one-half ton pickup. Hoagland Ford had bid $1,705.11 on this item and although the McDonald bid did not include a heater, the board still considered it the lowest bid.

Board attorney Dan M. Russell, Jr., reported that on May 27 he had sent a transcript of the record on the water and gas bond issue to Jackson for approval by the state bond attorney. He also reported that M. A. Saunders and Co., Memphis bond brokers, were ready to deliver the proceeds from sale of $200,000 in bonds the end of this month by which time he hoped to have had the bond sale validated by chancery court.

In other matters town council voted to place a $50 advertisement in the program for the Miss Bay St. Louis contest sponsored by the Joyceas and approved the civil defense program for fiscal 1964 submitted by Alderman John Longo, Jr., who is also Waveland's civil defense director.

Splitting big precincts is Demo suggestion to board

George W. Wier of Jackson was hired as county engineer and tentative approval given a proposal to split the six largest voting boxes in the county for the Aug. 6 Democratic primary when the board of supervisors met Monday.

Wier was named to the post succeeding the late Arthur MacArthur, to serve until Dec. 31, at $200 a month and $50 expenses for work on state and federal aid road projects and $35 a day for other services.

County Democratic Chairman Joseph V. Colson and Leo Seal, Jr., secretary, advanced the box separation plan in view of the heavy vote anticipated in the August primary. Colson recalled that four years ago Waveland counted from closing time on the Tuesday until noon Thursday. They suggested a second separate box and set of election managers for Waveland, all the Bay St. Louis precincts except North Bay and Kilm.

The board directed them to confer with County Registrar Lamar Otis and present a written proposal at the meeting next Monday. At Wier's suggestion the board agreed to request Frank Moore, state aid engineer, to program the Dummy Line Road project in Beat 4 under the federal state secondary system so it can be undertaken this year. As a state aid only project, it would have to begin by June 30, six months before the end of the supervisors' term. The May claim dockets were approved with the exception of Beat 4 where basically all bills except for labor were held because the fund has only $1,705.40. Other funds were somewhat crimped also since the May allocation of gas taxes had not been received.

The board authorized advertising for tax receipt printing for the year but turned a deaf ear to Sheriff Gerald V. Price's protest that it acted without proper authority last month in voting to deduct half a prisoner's sentence because of illness. He cited a Supreme Court ruling holding the statute unconstitutional. By the same token the board refused to act on his recommendation that another prisoner, Earl Robertson, Negro, be allowed one-fourth of his six-month term off for good behavior.

GOP leader urges Rotary

Take sides in politics

"Every businessman, professional man and community leader has a responsibility to take sides" in political matters, Hubel Phillips, Republican candidate for governor, told Rotarians at the conclusion of his luncheon speech yesterday. "It is no disgrace to be wrong, but he should be ashamed" to take no part. This advice was Phillips' "suggestion" rather than solution to four alien philosophies he told the audience had been spread among the American people for 30 years: 1, that people are equal in a larger sense than equal before the law; 2, that there is a minimum standard of living; 3, that there is nothing wrong in the government spending more than it has; and 4, that the government gives you something.

The anti-Democratic old these four philosophies were contrary to the economic ideals that made this country what it is and that most of Mississippi's problems come from outside the state.

"Look at the man on your right and on your left. Are you equal?" In all things, the anti-Democratic asked. "When everyone is equal we'll equal pure communism."

Ask applications for nurses aide course

Applications for the nurses aide class starting Monday at Hancock General Hospital will be accepted from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Friday by Mrs. Lewis Hart, director of nursing.

Deciding the idea that "the government can give us something" Phillips asserted that government can only give what we have given it or it has taken from us. The government giving idea, he said, is part of our drift toward socialism.

In a sidebar at the South's traditional Democratic vote, the Republican candidate remarked that "if on leaving here I were convinced that I'd get 60 per cent of the votes in Hancock County you don't think I'd come back do you? I'd spend my time" in counties where the issue was in doubt. This he said is what both national parties have done where the South is concerned. The South, he continued "hasn't demonstrated sufficient independence to get consideration. It would be just as bad for it to be 60 per cent Republican."

DONALD Marquar
FOR CONSTABLE
BEAT 5 - HANCOCK COUNTY.

TO THE CITIZENS OF BEAT FIVE, HANCOCK COUNTY, MISSISSIPPI
I take this opportunity to submit to you my candidacy for Constable of Beat Five, subject to the Democratic Primaries in August of this year.

I am thirty-five years of age, and was born and reared in Bay Saint Louis. I received my education in the public schools of this city. I lived with my grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Poydus, until I enlisted in the Navy during World War II. I saw active service in the Atlantic area during that War, and served a total of five years during World War II and afterward.

After receiving an honorable discharge from the Navy, I returned to my home in Bay Saint Louis, where my wife and I were married. She is the former Lois Asher of Lakeshore, and we have two children, a boy and a girl.

I am presently serving you as Deputy Sheriff, and I have been serving in this capacity for three and one-half years. As such it has been my duty to assist in every activity in which the Sheriff's office is engaged, including investigations of complaints indicating the commission of misdemeanors or felonies of every character, the apprehension and arrest of criminals, or of those charged with crimes, and on a number of occasions I have, without assistance, arrested and brought into the Sheriff's office for booking, persons who were acting in a violent and threatening manner; all of these services have been done and carried out in a satisfactory manner.

Being the father of two school children, I have, of course, a special interest in the children of the community; and as a result of this interest, it has been my custom during the time I have been Deputy Sheriff, to be on hand at the public school during the afternoon when the buses are loading and to patrol the highway, either immediately in front of the bus, or just behind them, until the children were safely deposited at home, or at the place where they were to be picked up. In doing this, I was not under special instructions, but having observed many accidents or near-accidents where school buses were involved, I felt that the presence of the patrol car, immediately in front of the bus, would serve as a reminder to motorists to watch the school bus about to stop, and to stop without a collision. When my observations while making these patrols, I am certain a number of accidents have been avoided because of the presence of the patrol car.

I hope to be able to see each of you personally between now and the time of election, but that may be impossible because I have to leave to carry on my duties as Deputy Sheriff during that time. However, I do earnestly ask your vote and support for the office of Constable, and I assure you that if elected, I shall be at your service and anxious to serve you, when the need arises, as Constable of Beat Five.

Respectfully,
DONALD MARQUAR

Player shortage hits Pony league

The 1963 Pony League season opened Tuesday afternoon with an unexpected problem - four players are available but the number of boys participating has been decreased by almost 50 per cent. Though players were found for one game Tuesday as Fahey Drug edged Youth Center 3-2.

Mrs. Theo Tudury, chairman of the Parks and Playgrounds Commission which sponsors the Pony League, expressed deep disappointment at the few 13, 14, and 15 year olds boys interested in playing ball. "They've got a beautiful park, people willing to spend time working with them, and they don't seem to want it," remarked Mrs. Tudury.

"We're still hoping to be able to get four full teams," stated league head coach Buddy Pitolo. "If we're only able to get enough for three teams we'll probably still play, but if we only have enough boys for two teams, we may have to stop."

In the one game Tuesday, Mike Strong lined a single to drive home what proved to be the winning run in the top of the fifth and final inning for Fahey's.

Fahey had drawn first blood in the second inning when catcher Walter Gagnon and Strong reached base and came around to score. A tremendous home run by Youth Center's Al Van Antz made it 2-1 and when John Stomach hit an infield single and came around to score the game was tied. Strong's base hit then won it for Fahey as Youth Center couldn't tally in their Strong was a double hero as he pitched the distance on a mound for Fahey. Joemy Collier was the losing hurler.

A doubleheader is scheduled today beginning at 4:30 p.m. and action will depend upon how many players are present. The Echo Scoops are slated to play Youth Center in the first game with Sammy Signs and Fahey to follow. Next Tuesday, the schedule has Sammy vs. Youth Center and Echo vs. Fahey.

Methodist rites unite Miss Taconi, Mr. Cuevas

In a double ring ceremony at 11 A.M. Saturday in Main Street Methodist Church, Miss Lillian Jane Taconi, daughter of Joseph E. Taconi and the late Mrs. Taconi, became the bride of Ellis Charles Cuevas, son of Mrs. Lena Cuevas of Waveland and Robert E. Cuevas of Bay St. Louis.

Rev. E. E. Price, pastor, officiated before the altar adorned with arrangements of white gladioli and daisies. Nuptial music was provided by Mrs. J. E. Goldman, organist, and Mrs. William McLach, soloist.

The bride was given in marriage by Louis Rehm of New Orleans, friend of the family.

Serving as matriarch of honor was her sister, Mrs. Pedro Yand of Bay St. Louis. Other attendants were Mrs. Paul Lough, III, of Baton Rouge, La., and Miss Peggy Smith of New Orleans. Powell Glass, Jr., was best man. Will Price and Milton Bernard, cousin of the groom, ushered.

After a reception in the fellowship hall of the church the couple left for a honeymoon in Florida. They will be at home at 410 State St. on their return.

Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Louis Rehm, Mrs. Essie Rehm, Mrs. Rita Pratt, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Smith, Jr., Miss Connie Rehm all of New Orleans; Mr. and Mrs. James Pfeiffer of Slidell, La., and Mrs. J. J. Ring and Mrs. James R. Dougherty of Vidalia, Ga.

Mr. and Mrs. Glass entertained with a buffet supper in compliment to the couple after the rehearsal Friday night. Guests included members of the wedding party and business colleagues of Mr. Cuevas on the staff of the Sea Coast Echo.

Among pre-nuptial events featuring the bride were a miscellaneous shower given by Mrs. Herman Mozaruk and a crystal shower by women of the Methodist church.

Harry hears ... Bass fishing art in bayous

We've never claimed to be any kind of an authority on the world of fish and game. We go fishing about once or twice each year and always go home with one or two pint-sized croakers and several ornery-looking crabs, and usually manage to throw back about five wee catfish that might get lost on the way back. However, eager to learn, we purchased quite an interesting book recently, The World of Wood, Field, and Stream, a collection of short stories from the columns of the New York Times. Even to a novice, we found the various writings both informative and amusing. We'd like to offer a few paragraphs from one of the selections, To Catch Bass on Mississippi Bayou, Coast Plug at Lizard on a Tree.

Pascagoula, Mississippi - The way to catch bass around here is to work along a bayou bank with a sculling machine, find a lizard head-down on a cypress tree, and cast a plug at the lizard.

"This is an uncomplicated matter to such a man as Withee Carver of Pascagoula, who was trying out his new sculling machine today. It is called a hydro-fin, and consists, roughly, of a metal fin manipulated by a rudderlike bar."

"Withee Carver, too distracted by his new toy to do anything much with fish, had caught nothing but a couple of bass, neither of which weighed more than three pounds, and a fairly good white perch. He regarded this as disgraceful but was too infatuated by his sculling machine to be humiliated."

Lizard is important
"The lizard awakened him to the hard realities of Mississippi fishing and to the realization that Jackson County expected better things of him. The lizard was flicking about on the bark of a cypress that stood in the water a couple of feet from shore."

"A bass is going to be lying in the water right under that lizard, waiting for him to lose his hold," he said in tones of ringing authority. And with that he whipped a Garcia Floppy plug at the lizard.

"His brother asserts that Carver, using an Ambassador reel, can hit a crawling housefly at twenty yards with a plug. I do not wholly believe this, although Lawton Carver often has been known to tell the truth. But the plug did strike the cypress tree exactly where the lizard had been a fraction of a second before."

"The lizard had whipped around the tree, out of sight. The Floppy dropped into the water and immediately vanished in a swirling splash. Carver's six-and-a-half foot glass casting rod was arched for five minutes or so. A four-pound bass was the result."

"I do not like people to call their shots like that. It smacks of virtuosity. And it would be double virtuosity to match or top such stunts. It was essential for me to use restraint for the rest of the day, and I did. So did Lawton Carver. Otherwise, we could have caught some fish."

Surprise start in softball
Bay Softball League action started its second week Monday and already all three top choices have tasted defeat at least once. Industrial Enameling, expected to be a powerhouse, has lost two in a row; Reink's, defending champions, have only a 1-1 slate, and Southern Realty hit the dirt in their first game.

Catholic Youth Organization, Roland's Signs and Trapani are deadlocked through Monday for the top spot - each with a 2-0 mark. Roland's appears to be the most improved club, while the others are both solid, CYO, though by far the youngest team in the league, proved they could play under pressure when carried nine innings to defeat Southern Realty in their first game of the season.

Looks like an interesting summer!
Finals in the annual Pass Christian Isles Golf Club championships will be Saturday - in the championship flight Mrs. James Durham, co-medalist, faces Mrs. Powel Glass, Jr., the Echo's managing editor, for the women's title, while young Bob Genin, letterman on the '63 Ole Miss links squad, goes up against medalist Dick Merritt for the men's crown.

Willie Pastrano, a favorite among local boxing fans and a native of New Orleans, won the light-heavyweight championship of the world Saturday night, handing former king Harold Johnson his first defeat in eight years. There has been lots of controversy over the fight and though we were for Pastrano, it looked like a clear victory for Johnson to us. Well, that's Las Vegas for you!

Alexis Romanoff, recent eighth grade graduate of North Bay, turned in some pretty fair bowling early this week. Sunday he rolled an even 200 minutes before league competition began, and Monday night in league play, he marked every frame en route to a 209.

Roland's, CYO win surprises

Surprising CYO and Roland's Signs captured their second straight victories last Wednesday and Friday in Bay Softball League play. Reink's Dirt Dobbers and Trapani's also posted impressive victories.

Roland's pounded 23 hits in a 19-4 massacre of Krankey Friday night in one of two games. Nearly everyone on the Roland team hit safely with Jerry Seaneau going 3-4 to lead the way. Bert Taylor and Pete Lachner each collected three hits in five trips to the plate for the winners, while Geoffrey Favre paced the Krankey attack with three hits in as many bays.

Louis Lachner was the winning hurler, while Bruce Favre took the defeat. Trapani had a surprisingly easy time beating Industrial Enameling 9-4 in Friday's nightcap. The Traps collected 16 hits with Gus Alme spanning 3-4 and Clayton Adams 2-3 to spark the attack. Jimmy Benigno was 2-3 for the losers.

Gene Rogers allowed only nine hits while pitching good ball to gain the win. Red Davis lost for Industrial. Wednesday's feature game found CYO upsetting Southern Realty 4-3 in nine innings when Dusty Rhodes singled home Don Saucier with the winning run in the last of the ninth with two outs. It was a sweet victory for CYO, composed of high school players, over Southern Realty's squad, made up primarily of high school faculty members.

Southern Realty outfit CYO 15-5 but couldn't get the runners across. Leroy Luke collected 3-4 for the winners while Frank Lachner and Toy Tedford were both 3-4 for Southern Realty. Alvin Lachner was the winner and Don Caldwell the losing pitcher.

Reink's scored big in the first three innings and coasted to a 13-3 triumph over Industrial Enameling. The Dirt Dobbers hit safely 17 times in winning a surprisingly easy victory. Bob Bishop was 3-3 and Gene Tarzetti 3-4 to lead the heavy-hitting Reinkie attack. Fred Scarborough was 2-4 for Industrial.

Harry hears ... Bass fishing art in bayous

We've never claimed to be any kind of an authority on the world of fish and game. We go fishing about once or twice each year and always go home with one or two pint-sized croakers and several ornery-looking crabs, and usually manage to throw back about five wee catfish that might get lost on the way back. However, eager to learn, we purchased quite an interesting book recently, The World of Wood, Field, and Stream, a collection of short stories from the columns of the New York Times. Even to a novice, we found the various writings both informative and amusing. We'd like to offer a few paragraphs from one of the selections, To Catch Bass on Mississippi Bayou, Coast Plug at Lizard on a Tree.

Pascagoula, Mississippi - The way to catch bass around here is to work along a bayou bank with a sculling machine, find a lizard head-down on a cypress tree, and cast a plug at the lizard.

"This is an uncomplicated matter to such a man as Withee Carver of Pascagoula, who was trying out his new sculling machine today. It is called a hydro-fin, and consists, roughly, of a metal fin manipulated by a rudderlike bar."

"Withee Carver, too distracted by his new toy to do anything much with fish, had caught nothing but a couple of bass, neither of which weighed more than three pounds, and a fairly good white perch. He regarded this as disgraceful but was too infatuated by his sculling machine to be humiliated."

Lizard is important
"The lizard awakened him to the hard realities of Mississippi fishing and to the realization that Jackson County expected better things of him. The lizard was flicking about on the bark of a cypress that stood in the water a couple of feet from shore."

"A bass is going to be lying in the water right under that lizard, waiting for him to lose his hold," he said in tones of ringing authority. And with that he whipped a Garcia Floppy plug at the lizard.

"His brother asserts that Carver, using an Ambassador reel, can hit a crawling housefly at twenty yards with a plug. I do not wholly believe this, although Lawton Carver often has been known to tell the truth. But the plug did strike the cypress tree exactly where the lizard had been a fraction of a second before."

"The lizard had whipped around the tree, out of sight. The Floppy dropped into the water and immediately vanished in a swirling splash. Carver's six-and-a-half foot glass casting rod was arched for five minutes or so. A four-pound bass was the result."

"I do not like people to call their shots like that. It smacks of virtuosity. And it would be double virtuosity to match or top such stunts. It was essential for me to use restraint for the rest of the day, and I did. So did Lawton Carver. Otherwise, we could have caught some fish."

"The stunt happened on Portico Bayou..."
Surprise start in softball
Bay Softball League action started its second week Monday and already all three top choices have tasted defeat at least once. Industrial Enameling, expected to be a powerhouse, has lost two in a row; Reink's, defending champions, have only a 1-1 slate, and Southern Realty hit the dirt in their first game.

Catholic Youth Organization, Roland's Signs and Trapani are deadlocked through Monday for the top spot - each with a 2-0 mark. Roland's appears to be the most improved club, while the others are both solid, CYO, though by far the youngest team in the league, proved they could play under pressure when carried nine innings to defeat Southern Realty in their first game of the season.

Looks like an interesting summer!
Finals in the annual Pass Christian Isles Golf Club championships will be Saturday - in the championship flight Mrs. James Durham, co-medalist, faces Mrs. Powel Glass, Jr., the Echo's managing editor, for the women's title, while young Bob Genin, letterman on the '63 Ole Miss links squad, goes up against medalist Dick Merritt for the men's crown.

Willie Pastrano, a favorite among local boxing fans and a native of New Orleans, won the light-heavyweight championship of the world Saturday night, handing former king Harold Johnson his first defeat in eight years. There has been lots of controversy over the fight and though we were for Pastrano, it looked like a clear victory for Johnson to us. Well, that's Las Vegas for you!

Alexis Romanoff, recent eighth grade graduate of North Bay, turned in some pretty fair bowling early this week. Sunday he rolled an even 200 minutes before league competition began, and Monday night in league play, he marked every frame en route to a 209.

Come hill ...
Vacations go smoother in a Chevrolet Corvair

Bring on those mountains! They're not so high and mighty when you've got Corvair's gummy six and rear-engine traction working on them.

You scurry up the meanest grades. You move with sure-footed agility on wet pavement, muddy lanes, gravel and other would-be miseries.

And with most of Corvair's weight on the rear wheels, you have easy steering, too. Fact is, the handling's so light and responsive you don't even offer power steering for the car.

And there's more to feel good about. No problems with your radiator boiling over or going dry, because there's no radiator. Corvair's engine is air cooled. No concern about brake adjustments, either, because the brakes adjust themselves. Nothing much to think about at all except the good time you're having.

Like to do that in a sporty bucket-seated Monza Club Coupe or Convertible? Like to spring into summer with a 4-speed stick shift* and Spyder package* with its 150-hp Turbocharged engine? Your dealer's got just the Corvair and the Trade 'N' Travel deal on it to put you in a holiday mood.
